

Dazzling Demetrios

Demetrios unveiled his exciting 2010 Bridal Couture Collection at an exclusive showing in Milan, featuring a variety of fresh, inspiring styles – from elegant contemporary designs to vintage-inspired classics incorporating stylistic modern nuances, with impeccable attention to detail from bodice to seam.

Using softer fabrics such as organza and taffeta, Demetrios concentrated on ruching on the waist and bustline.

The designs are all about silhouette and style, with delightful details such as laced-up bodices, dazzling beads and lovely lacy fabrics. Bolero jackets in fabulous fur, sheer organza and luxurious wool add a trendy touch. The traditional cape is also back - this time shorter and gracefully part of the bolero.

Notable design trends are the stylish dropped waistline designs as well as graceful bows, fabulous flowers and pretty butterflies. Veils are made to fit each gown perfectly. Says Lani of Lady Marmalaide: "While the design of the gowns may be simpler, they are more fabulous than ever because of the rich, opulent fabrics and the magnificent illusions Demetrios has captured in his inimitable style."
